

T. Hagens

T is honored to serve on the Los Angeles Equine Advisory Committee. She is a compassionate equestrian with a background in equine management and equestrian relations. With over a decade of experience in the horse industry, T holds an Equine Science Certification from Pierce College and a Bachelor's degree in Philosophy from Trinity College. She is dedicated to the preservation of horse keeping and enjoys sharing the transformative power of horses for the enrichment of humanity. T is uniquely equipped to navigate the diverse social landscape of equine affairs. Her service as ranch caretaker and equestrian team member for Glynn Turman's acclaimed Camp Gid D Up remains a highlight. Through camps and community groups, she hopes to inspire intergenerational civic engagement. She is looking forward to a meaningful and productive future with her fellow committee members on the Los Angeles Equine Advisory Committee.
