

GENE GILBERT

Ms. Gene Gilbert is the owner of Enterprise Farms Riding School and Training Barn located at the Paddock Riding Club in Atwater Village. Ms. Gilbert also serves as the chairperson of Preserve Atwater Rancho (PAR), a community group dedicated to securing zoning protection for the Atwater Rancho area to ensure its continued equestrian presence. This area hosts various equestrian facilities, including the Paddock, Saddle and Sirloin Club, the Ahmanson Equestrian Facility for the Los Angeles Police Department's Mounted Unit; Taking the Reins program for underserved girls; Children's Ranch for challenged children and several private boarding stables. Gene currently holds the positions of Chair of the Equine Committee at the Atwater Village Neighborhood Council, Vice President of the Caspian Horse Society of the Americas, and Professional Member of the United States Pony Club. She has played a vital role in advocating for and preserving the rare Caspian Horse breed, utilizing them in her riding school. Additionally, she maintains a small private stable and addresses the concerns of individual horse owners. Beyond her equine endeavors, Ms. Gilbert is a respected human resources consultant and has been featured in the "Who's Who of Professional and Executive Women in the United States" for more than 20 years.
